WHEREAS, Mr. Sullivan, 69, founded the organization as Fathers Support Center in 1997 with the intent of transforming absent fathers into nurturing parents. Since then, the organization helped more than 18,000 fathers become financially and emotionally involved parents with the skills necessary to hold a job and support a family, in turn, making a positive impact in the lives of nearly 45,000 children; and

WHEREAS, Sullivan received the Gold Pin for the President's Volunteer Service Award, a Lifetime Achievement Award from the National Partnership of Community Leadership, was named the 2017 Nonprofit Executive of the Year in St. Louis, and received honors from the NAACP, Missouri Association of Social Welfare, Washington University and the governor of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, in 2018, Mr. Sullivan shared his remarkable personal narrative for The St. Louis American's Homegrown Black Male series; and

WHEREAS, he was born and grew up until the age of 15 in Memphis, Tennessee and was the oldest of eight siblings, who were reared by his mother, Mennie Wilson, a strong and proud Black woman who taught her children many morals, the need for education, positive values, manners, respect for authority, respect for themselves and others. He didn't know his father until he was 55 years old; and

WHEREAS, at the age of 17, he was sentenced to Elmira Correctional Reformatory Institution for burglary and released after serving 14 months. He spent several years in and out of the prison system. At the age of 24, he was sentenced to life in prison and sent to Attica Correctional Facility for selling drugs, won an appeal and had a sentence reduction; After release, he returned to the streets and later became a drug addict; and

WHEREAS, determined to be better at the age of 43, he entered drug rehab and after a 30-day stay in rehab he left, and the very next day enrolled at St. Louis Community College. WHEREAS, the methods and strategies employed in this responsible fatherhood programing were created by Halbert from his many lessons learned. He taught responsible behavior in the area of parenting and living life as a citizen in our community. In 2016 he developed a mom's project to help women to develop the skills for responsible parenting because as he would say, "children do not come with a manual"; and

WHEREAS, he targeted fathers as a way to produce positive outcomes for children. Most fathers who come to his agency are the non-resident and non-custodial fathers – the so-called "deadbeat dads" who want to be in the lives of their children. It was his vision that every father can be a responsible father committed to a cohesive family relationship.

RESOLUTION NUMBER 13

RECOGNIZING MAY 1ST AS INTERNATIONAL WORKERS’ DAY AND HONORING THE LONG HISTORY AND CONTRIBUTIONS OF THE LABOR MOVEMENT TO SAINT LOUIS AND THE UNITED STATES

WHEREAS, May Day, also known as International Workers’ Day, has its roots in the United States and is now recognized in dozens of countries around the world as a day to honor and fight for the rights of workers; and

WHEREAS, May 1st is also recognized as the feast day of St Joseph the Worker, the Patron Saint of Workers, in the tradition of the Catholic Church. This feast day was first established in 1955 by Pope Pius XII to draw attention to the dignity of labor; and

WHEREAS, the significance of May Day to the labor movement began with the movement for an eight-hour workday in Haymarket Square in Chicago, IL in 1886. The events of May 1st would later be known as the Haymarket affair, an event which used brutal police repression against labor activists and, in the end, resulted in the state execution of 8 labor activists; and

WHEREAS, St. Louis has played a crucial role in the growth and development of the US Labor Movement, stretching back to the 1877 St. Louis General Strike, which was built around multi-racial solidarity; it is the birthplace of the IBEW, which was founded here in 1891, and the site of dramatic labor struggles including the 1937 Sit Down Strike at Emerson Electric. Today organized labor in our city is working hard to restore the multiracial unity evidenced during the 1877 strike, while building a labor movement that can meet the challenges of the 21st Century; and

WHEREAS, the right of working people to come together to organize and collectively bargain with their employers is a fundamental right, recognized as such by US and international law. Specifically, in 2018 Missouri voters overwhelmingly struck down so called Right-To-Work laws that infringed upon the rights of Missourians to collectively bargain; and

WHEREAS, the US House of Representatives has passed and 47 US Senators have co-sponsored the Protecting the Right to Organize (PRO) Act, the greatest expansion of workers' rights protections since the National Labor Relations Act of 1935; and

WHEREAS, in the midst of a global pandemic essential workers have put their lives on the line to serve, feed, and care for the citizens of St. Louis, and we owe them our gratitude for their critical work.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Aldermen of the City of St. Louis that we pause in our deliberations to recognize May 1, 2021 as "International Workers' Day" in the City of St. Louis, celebrate the achievements of the Labor Movement, support the rights of workers to organize, and direct the Clerk of this Board to spread a copy of this Resolution across the minutes of these proceedings and prepare a commemorative copy to the end that it may be presented at a time and place deemed appropriate to the sponsor.
